Environmental Policy

Australian Environmental Auditors Pty Ltd (AEA) promotes and contributes to environmentally sustainable development and economic growth.

AEA promotes an organisational culture of sustainable development with values based on environmentally and ecologically sustainable systems.

We aim to recognise the range of community aspirations, environmental, social and economic values associated with our business, and to provide practical solutions to integrate, protect and enhance these values for the present without compromising the needs of future generations.

We will utilise our technical and management capabilities to achieve leading environmental practice by supporting the principles of environmentally sustainable development by managing, planning and designing our projects to avoid or mitigate adverse environmental impacts and promote environmental improvements.

This will be achieved by systematically managing our activities using a formally documented Environmental Management System (EMS) that is consistent with the requirements of ISO14001:2015 (and its successors) and complying with all applicable environmental policies, laws, regulations, licenses and agreements.

AEA shall provide ongoing environmental professional development for all staff, including the development of a culture that encourages personal commitment to achieve the objectives of this policy. AEA shall also seek to continually reduce the environmental impact and performance of its business and activities, through the adoption of this policy.

We will promote this continual improvement of our environmental performance and reduction in the environmental impact of our workplaces and management systems by setting and measuring environmental objectives and targets against which our performance will be assessed at regular intervals.

This policy is a statement of AEA's commitment to the environment. To this end AEA Directors and Management are dedicated to continual improvement in work practices associated with environmental management, protection and improvement. We require all staff to adhere to this policy.
